
Tadashi Matsumoto

Head of Unit, Sustainable Development and Global Relations

Cities, Urban Policies and Sustainable Development Division

Centre for Entrepreneurship, SMEs, Regions and Cities (CFE)

Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD)

Tadashi Matsumoto leads OECD's work on sustainable urban development and partnership. He provides strategic leadership and oversees the research and analysis on topics related to the zero-carbon transition in cities, a territorial approach to SDGs, urban green growth, energy efficiency in buildings, urban resilience and national urban policies.

Tadashi is a lead author of Compact City Policies (2012), Urban Green Growth in Dynamic Asia (2016) and Building Resilient Cities: An Assessment of Disaster Risk Management Policies in Southeast Asia (2018), as well as OECD urban green growth studies in Stockholm (2013), Kitakyushu, Bangkok (2015), Hai Phong (2016), Bandung (2016) and Cebu (2017). He led OECD's contribution to Habitat III Conference (2016) and currently coordinates the National Urban Policy Programme in partnership with UN-Habitat and Cities Alliance. Tadashi has also led OECD Urban Policy Review of Viet Nam (2018), Myanmar (forthcoming) and Global State of National Urban Policy (2018).

Before joining the OECD in 2009, Tadashi worked for the Japanese Ministry of Land, Infrastructure, Transport and Tourism for more than 10 years. Tadashi holds a MUP (Urban Planning) from New York University and a Ph.D. from Tokyo University (Engineering). He lectures at Tsukuba University, Japan, and SciencesPo, France.
